Get the kids out this September school holidays

The Gold Coast will come alive with the laughter and excitement of children these September school holidays. If you're worried about what you will do to keep your kids entertained, Southport, Surfers Paradise and Broadbeach have plenty to keep them from climbing the walls.

Broadwater Parklands in Southport is one of the most fun and picturesque parks spaces on the Gold Coast. This September, the Parklands is hosting Bring on Spring with events and activities across the entire month. Produce by the Pier, Check It Fest and Corvettes on the Coast are just some of the awesome activities on offer. There are also several kids' play areas and the popular rock pools. Check out the City of Gold Coast Parks website for more information.

For more free family fun you can check out the Kids Weekend in Surfers Paradise on 21 and 22 September. The Surfers Paradise Foreshore is the Kids Weekend hub, with music and entertainment on stage and all the hands-on stuff taking place down by the beach. Nickelodeon Australia's SpongeBob SquarePants and the crew from Slime Time Live will perform live on the main stage. You can also see some Lego artistry at the Bricks n Fun Lego Display at High Street beneath the Hilton or catch a movie at the Cinema on the Beach and be wowed by the fireworks display.

Head to Pacific Fair in Broadbeach to discover a world of archaeology, excavations and dinosaurs at the Dinosaur Adventures Exhibition. Pacific Fair's school holidays program is all about science, fun and captivating animatronic dinosaurs, where kids of all ages can learn about these fantastic extinct creatures and the science that has helped us discover their secret past.

The Gold Coast is the place to be these September school holidays. With each precinct offering free family entertainment, planning your kids' adventures will be easy.
